

Work and ownership in Digital Labor

Trebor Sholz, New School of New York

Sébastien Broca, Paris VIII, CEMTI

Marie-Anne Dujarier, Sorbonne-Nouvelle, LISE

Maud Simonet, CNRS, IDHES

Chairman: Jacob Matthews, Paris VIII, CEMTI

In 2013, Trebor Scholz edited a collective book (Digital Labor. The Internet as Playground and Factory, Routledge) which presents the latest research on digital labor. In France, sociologists also analyse transformation of work (employment, volunteering, activity, professions...) and ownership induced by these new forms of production, exchange and consumption. This session, organized by the Critical Workshop of the CNAM, offers to confront American and French research on these issues.

Tuesday, 8 th December 2015
